HOPE TO AVERT POWER STRIKE TONIGHT

CITY HOSPITAL CROWDED, HAS RECORD YEAR

Reports Given At Annual Meeting; Five Trustees Added to Board

Salem City hospital had a record year in 1945 with 2,398 patients admitted, the largest number ever admitted in one year. It was about five per cent more than in 1944.

That was the report of Supt. Walter J. Bailey at the annual meeting of the hospital association last night in the assembly room of the Nurses' home.

Five new trustees were added to the board and four trustees whose terms expired were re-elected, all for three years. New trustees are D. G. Holt, S. F. Keener, E. S. Dawson, James H. Wilson of Salem and Clyde Barrow of Columbiana.

South Metzger, James A. Probert and Mrs. Andrew MacLeod of Salem and H. H. Detwiler of Columbiana were re-elected.

Other trustees are: D. B. McCune, Mrs. L. B. Harris, Mrs. R. B. Kernohan, L. H. Colley, C. S. Carr, Ralph Hawley, Orvil C. Hoover, R. K. Yates, Dr. L. F. Derfus, Louis Probst and R. S. McCulloch. Following the association meeting the board re-organized by re-electing these officers: President, D. B. McCune; vice president, Mrs. L. B. Harris; secretary, South Metzger; treasurer, L. H. Colley.

Plan 3-Story Addition

Bailey's report showed 21,574 patient days, compared with 20,987 the previous year; 478 births; average stay per patient, nine days; 880 surgical cases, 17,736 laboratory cases, 4,260 X-ray cases.

Salem City hospital has been operating over 100 per cent capacity, while 85 per cent is considered a normal load, Bailey reported.

As the hospital is not large enough to take care of the demands, plans are being made for the erection of a new three-story wing to increase the bed capacity from 70 to 100. This new wing will give more operating space, a larger laboratory and X-ray department, emergency rooms and more private and semi-private rooms for patients.

New equipment ordered during the last six months includes operating table, operating light, instrument sterilizers, electric cardiograph, surgical instruments, laboratory equipment and many other items. Much of the new equipment was donated by friends of the hospital.

Students in the school of nursing the first of the year totaled 37.

Deputy Collectors On Job To Aid Taxpayers

The Internal Revenue bureau office, second floor of the Salem postoffice building, will be open daily commencing Friday for the convenience of income tax payers. Deputy Collector Gerald J. Judge announced that the office would be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. each day, except Saturday, through March 15 to assist persons in filing their 1945 reports.

War Impaired Hearing Of 40,000 Servicemen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The din of war damaged the ears of about 40,000 American servicemen and within 20 years there will be around 300,000 more veterans hard of hearing.

This was the estimate of the Veterans Administration today as it started a special rehabilitation plan based on the army's successful program.

Thirteen thousand veterans have been treated by army and navy doctors for deafness. It is estimated about 27,000 other veterans have been deafened but have not reported it.

W. S. MELLINGER DIES SUDDENLY

Leetonia Lumber Dealer Was Chairman of Salem Draft Board

Wilbur S. Mellinger, 49, Leetonia lumber dealer and chairman of the Salem draft board, died at 4 p. m. yesterday at his home, 230 Walnut st., Leetonia, following a heart attack Sunday evening.

Born April 19, 1896, at Leetonia, a son of Ira F. and Effie Sittler Mellinger, he was graduated from Leetonia High school in 1913. He was a member of the class of 1917 at Gettysburg college, Gettysburg, Pa. Entering the service in 1917, he served for two years with the army.

He was married Aug. 14, 1919, to Ruth Bream of Gettysburg.

Active In Legion, Boy Scouts

Organizer of Boy Scout troop 13 of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Leetonia, he had been active for the past 27 years in county Boy Scout work.

He served for approximately two years as chairman of the Salem Selective Service board, his death marking the first break in the draft board membership since its organization before the war.

He was president of the Mellinger Lumber Co., Inc., at Leetonia, and was a past commander of the Columbiana County council, American Legion, and Joe Williams post 31, Leetonia. He also was a member of the Legion Forty and Eight lodge and St. Paul's Lutheran church, Leetonia. He was a 32nd degree Mason.

Surviving are his wife, Ruth, and two brothers, H. Ross Mellinger, Sr., and Edward W. Mellinger of Leetonia.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Woods funeral home, Leetonia, in charge of Rev. T. P. Laughner, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery, Leetonia.

Friends may call from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

Boy Scout Dinner Is Planned Feb. 12

Plans for the annual Boy Scout and Cub Scout coverdsh banquet, scheduled at the Memorial building Feb. 12, were completed at a meeting of the committee in charge, Chairman Russell Gibbs said today. A complete program, including picture slides of scouting activities and a performance by William Ross, magician, was formulated.

Other committee members are Andrew Hodge, M. H. Mawhinney, W. F. Ross and Arthur Smith.

Health Program Demands On Public, PTA Is Told

Miss Lillian Schroeder, secretary of the Columbiana County Public Health league, stressed the importance of a public health program when she spoke to members of the Fourth Street school Parent-Teacher association at a meeting last evening at the school building.

"The public health program is only as good as the citizens make it," she said, pointing out that the death rate from tuberculosis in Columbiana county is far greater than in the rest of the state. The tuberculosis menace could be completely controlled if the disease were always cared for in the early stages, even though the state gives no financial aid.

Miss Schroeder also showed a motion picture, "The Case of Lucy X," describing sanatorium care of tuberculosis patients.

Miss Jean Pife presented several piano solos to the 40 members present.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 25.

Grocer Held in Assault on Child

May Invite UNO Commission To Witness A-Bomb Sea Test

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Secretary of State Byrnes said today President Truman has approved his proposal to invite the United Nations atomic energy commission to witness the test of the atom bomb against naval ships.

Byrnes emphasized that even with the President's approval his proposal should not yet be construed as the final government policy on the subject.

He explained that it was his understanding that War Secretary Patterson and Navy Secretary Forrestal are still discussing the question of witnesses with General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and their staffs. If the Byrnes recommendation is finally adopted, it would mean that officials from Russia, Britain, France, China, Australia, Poland, Yugoslavia, Brazil, the Netherlands, Egypt and Canada would be on hand for the experiment.

Planned in Spring
The Navy and the Army expect to try out the bomb against warships this spring off the mid-Pacific Marshall Islands.

All members of the United Nations Security council plus Canada are members of the UNO Atomic Energy commission which was established in London last week. Canada is a member because it participated with the U. S. and Britain in the development of the atom bomb.

Byrnes said he was willing to have at the demonstration either the commission members or a committee appointed by the commission.

He added he knows of no conflict on the subject between the State department on one hand and the War and Navy departments on the other.

When a reporter remarked a State department opinion on such a matter, backed by the President, would "come pretty close to representing United States policy," Byrnes said he hoped so.

He added his proposal should not yet be construed as U. S. policy. It did not mean, he said, only the nations represented on the atomic commission would be invited.

Federal Mediator Sees GM and Union Officials

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, Jan. 29.—Seeking an end to the 10-weeks old General Motors strike, Special Federal Mediator James Dewey conferred today with Charles E. Wilson, GM president and had an engagement to meet top officers of the CIO Auto Workers union.

The conference with Wilson was held in the General Motors building.

Immediately across the street R. J. Thomas and Walter P. Reuther, president and vice-president respectively of the UAW-CIO awaited Dewey in the union's national headquarters.

The General Motors strike, growing out of demands for a 3 per cent wage increase, later cut by the union to 1 1/2 per cent, has kept 175,000 production workers idle for 10 weeks. The union estimates the strike has cost the workers $79,100,000 in lost wages.

Hopes ran high for an early settlement and Dewey himself expressed optimism about some action before the end of the week.

Dewey, who received his orders yesterday afternoon from Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach, declared he hoped to meet with management and labor representatives later today.

There was a possibility that the National Labor relations board hearing charging GM with failing to bargain in good faith might be held up after one day's testimony.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—An expectancy that the strike of 750,000 steel workers may be ended soon prevailed today among government officials.

No developments were announced officially, but there were evidences of continued efforts to bring about a quick termination of the walkout, which already has begun to affect other industries.

pending further mediations moves. Trial Examiner Gerald D. Reilly said he would grant continuance of the hearing if either side's attorney asked it.

"I have no instructions from the labor secretary other than to ride this strike to the finish," Dewey declared. "I am hoping for success and will stay here until this matter is ironed out."

Ford Grants Increase
Ford Motor Co. yesterday announced another pay boost, this one a 15 per cent raise to cover some 19,800 salaried employees not covered by the union's new contract.

President Henry Ford II said the increase would be retroactive to Jan. 1 and would include 4,335 foremen of the company to be transferred from an hourly to salary basis.

In the first day's testimony in General Motors' NLRB hearing, the corporation filed counter charges it was the UAW that had failed to bargain in good faith.

The UAW insisted on "unreasonable" demands and "destroyed and frustrated the mutuality necessary for collective bargaining," Chief GM Counsel Henry M. Hogan asserted.

Union Vice-President Walter P. Reuther, an early witness, said GM had refused during negotiations to discuss a 30 per cent increase.

New Gas Well One Of County's Best

Output of a new gas well, described as "the largest in southern Columbiana county," will be piped into the lines of the Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia, J. Arch Harwood, Salem district manager of the company, announced today.

William B. Powell, on whose 528-acre farm the well was drilled, estimated daily volume of 3,000,000 (M.) cubic feet and said the well was 4,474 feet deep into the oriskany sands. It was brought in for the Ohio Oil Co. by a Pittsburgh driller, John Galey.

Harold D. Smith Becomes Business Bureau Leader

Harold D. Smith became president of the Salem Business bureau at the first meeting of the year Monday noon at the Lape hotel.

L. H. Colley, retiring president, reviewed accomplishments of the past year before turning the office over to his successor, Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, secretary, submitted the annual financial report.

President Smith appointed new committees and some details of the year's program were discussed by the members. The bureau meets the second Monday each month.

ACTION RESTS ON PARLEY IN WASHINGTON

Utility Firms May Be Able To Continue Service To Consumers

Three major power companies in Ohio, serving a third of the state's population, made preparations today to attempt to continue normal service to consumers as a strike of 3,500 CIO utility workers drew near.

There was a question, however, of whether the walkout actually would begin as scheduled at midnight tonight.

Representatives of the union and the three companies—Dayton Power and Light, Ohio Power at Canton and Ohio Edison at Akron—were in Washington for a conference with Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach.

Schwellenbach indicated he did not hope for immediate agreement, but said the conference this afternoon was called to "attempt to find a basis for settlement of the dispute."

Ask 20-Cent An Hour Boost

The union members are seeking a wage increase of 20 cents an hour. Alfred Yale of Akron, president of the local union at Ohio Edison, said his followers would remain on the job while the negotiations were in progress, even if they continued past the midnight deadline.

A spokesman for Ohio Power said that supervisory employees, if permitted freely to enter and leave the company's plants, could maintain normal service for an indefinite period.

Dayton Power and Light said it would "make every effort to continue service," but added that a "strike would undoubtedly cripple service somewhat."

Ohio Power, operating in eastern and central Ohio, said only one of its nine distributing plants would be affected by a strike because eight are staffed by men not members of the CIO union. The company prepared to obtain auxiliary electricity from Indiana and West Virginia, it said.

Lausche Hits Strike Action
Gov. Frank J. Lausche said that, "if circumstances warrant," he would fly to Washington today to participate in an official conference.

Lausche, who called the disputants into conference last week said he had received word from officials of the Ohio Edison and Dayton Power & Light indicating "an acceptable attitude toward submission to issues to arbitration."

The governor said he had no word on the Ohio Power Co. attitude, and E. A. Lewis, vice president and general manager of Ohio Power, claimed his firm had received no official notification of today's Washington conference.

Other disputants said they had been notified and would attend.

The governor, who estimated more than 2,500,000 consumers would be affected by the scheduled strike, issued a statement last night saying:

"A strike in the three power companies would be a calamity. It would affect every citizen in the community served by these power companies."

"Because of the dire forebodings of what will result," he added, "a strike under no circumstances should be permitted to occur."

HOLDUP TRIO WILL FACE GRAND JURY

EAST LIVERPOOL, Jan. 29.—Joseph J. Cerina, 23, and Joseph Powers, 35, both of Youngstown, today pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to commit robbery, and Police Chief Hugh McDermott said Cerina had signed a confession to a series of 10 holdups in Ohio, West Virginia and western Pennsylvania.

Joseph T. Bova, 39, also of Youngstown, pleaded innocent to an identical charge. Municipal Judge Frank Grosshans held all three to the next grand jury, under $10,000 bond each.

They were arrested in connection with an attempted holdup of a super-market here Saturday night, and Chief McDermott declared the men were responsible for at least 10 holdups in the tri-state area.

Aid Fire Victim

MELROSE, Jan. 29.—William Perkins, 65-year-old blind man who lost his home in a fire yesterday, today took his wife and five children into a new home secured by the Red Cross and neighbors. Furnishings were provided by Melrose residents and the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church is obtaining clothing to replace articles lost in the blaze.

Harry Hopkins, Advisor To Late President, Succumbs

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Harry L. Hopkins, 55, former special assistant to the late President Roosevelt, died at 11:35 a. m. today at Memorial hospital.

Hopkins entered the hospital last November. He had been in ill health for several years and resigned his White House post last July 3, saying "I must take a rest."

A hospital attache said the nature of Hopkins' illness had not been determined.

He had been reported in serious "but not critical" condition early today.

Since leaving Washington, Hopkins had been impartial chairman of New York City's cloak and suit industry. He succeeded former Mayor James J. Walker to the post. His salary was reported to be about $25,000 yearly.

Born in Sioux City, Iowa, he became federal chief relief administrator during the depression years of the 1930s and later became President Roosevelt's closest confidant.

The Public Has Opinions

The U. S. Army poll taken last fall that showed American occupation troops less than unanimous in their ideas about Germany and the Germans will shock extremists and give all the rest of us something to think about—if we think.

What the poll showed was that 51 per cent of the troops believed Hitler did Germany a lot of good before 1939. It showed 22 per cent apparently ready to believe in anti-Semitism, 80 per cent in favor of a long occupation, 62 per cent believing U. S. military government should be tougher and 71 per cent believing it should be tougher with Nazis particularly.

Nineteen per cent thought Germany had good reasons for going to war, 28 per cent agreed with some of the German explanations for going to war, and 29 per cent liked Germans better after living among them than they did before. Fourteen per cent didn't like them as well. Thirty per cent liked Germans better than the English or the French. It will be noted that the sentiments which will shock extremists and give the rest of us something to think about are minority percentages.

They are probably not at great variance with the sentiments that would be expressed at home by a similar group of Americans. It is unfortunate that public opinion is not always 100 per cent for or against, but undeniably true that it almost never is. The great merit of public opinion polls is not what they have revealed about issues, but what they have revealed about people—that on most issues their opinion is so closely divided and so susceptible to change that "public opinion" in most cases is "public opinions".

Neither Fish Nor Fowl

The State Department has $13,000,000 to spend on its proposed Foreign Information Service during its first six months of existence. It has jobs for some 26,000 persons in 62 countries. All it has to do now is persuade Congress to breathe the breath of life into the new agency.

Given that, we shall have a permanent successor to the late OWI and Office of Inter-American Affairs whose object, according to Assistant Secretary of State Benton, is to give foreign peoples "a full and fair picture of American life and of the aims and policies of the United States government". Its instruments will include worldwide shortwave broadcasts and wireless bulletins every day, newsreels and documentary films, periodicals and such like.

Mr. Benton has said the new agency has no intention of competing with foreign propaganda abroad. He has likewise declared that it is not intended to compete with or supplant existing private news services.

Perhaps Mr. Benton is wise in making this explanation, since both foreign government propaganda agencies and non-government news services are strongly established in their opposite fields. But he leaves us with the odd and hesitant inference that the State Department is going in neither for propaganda nor for factual news distribution.

Only one thing seems definitely certain in this tepid declaration of an expensive project. Most tepid declaration of an expensive project. Most foreign readers and listeners are going to accept the State Department's foreign information output as slanted American propaganda. They've been fed too much government-issue news and views in the past to believe otherwise.

The State Department implies, by its declaration of this proposed agency's purpose, that foreign peoples have been getting an inadequate and unfair picture of this country, and a distorted impression of its government's intentions. But will these foreign peoples believe that a government information agency, confronted with a choice, will ever fail to show that government's activities in anything but the most favorable light? We doubt it.

We do not question that the State Department's intentions are the best and most honest in the world. Nevertheless, this information agency seems doomed to sow more confusion and to reap a harvest of cynical suspicion.

It might be more realistic if the State Department would cease to disclaim any propaganda intentions and try to compete with foreign propaganda agencies as best it could. Or, much better, it might throw its influence behind the growing efforts to promote a greater freedom of the press throughout the world.

For that world is badly in need of a free access to news for agencies which are known and trusted, and which will give the most straightforward information that human frailty and prejudice will permit. And we doubt that more government handouts will meet that need.

Less Brass In The VA

Gen. Omar Bradley, now Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, is an old Army man, and a good one. He knows, as even the proletarian-minded Russians discovered, that there is no substitute for rank and discipline in a fighting army.

When victory or defeat, life or death, can depend on the carrying out of orders, obedience must be prompt and unquestioning. Superior rank must be respected. Punishment for insubordination must be sharp. It all adds up to a most undemocratic arrangement, but there seems to be no other way of conducting a war successfully.

Such an arrangement, however, has no place in a democratic country outside of military life. Yet the habits of command and obedience are not always easy to break. Some officers come to feel that deference is due them as persons, even after they return to civilian life. It becomes almost instinctive to give orders, to make decisions for others, to expect that they will be accepted without argument, to be impatient of any contrary proposals.

General Bradley has undoubtedly seen a good bit of this in his time. He has probably seen it particularly in his present surroundings. Most likely he has heard the complaint of many veterans that there is too much "brass" in the Veterans' Administration—particularly in Washington.

So the General has issued a simple but wise order. From now on, employees of the VA who formerly were officers will drop the military titles which they have clung to even though they are no longer in the service, and are dealing with essentially civilian problems through an essentially civilian agency.

Colonel Jones henceforth is Mr. Jones. He is mister on his name plate, on his office door, and on his letters. He is mister to the former GIs with whom he deals. It is a small enough change, but it ought to make a considerable difference.

For the former officer, the plain title of mister is a reminder that the war is over. And for the former buck private sitting across the desk from him, there is no longer the barrier of a title to frighten him and freeze him and call to mind a lot of old diffidences and dislikes. The former private doesn't even need to know who his counselor is or what he has been unless the VA official chooses to tell him.

This not only promises a long-needed improvement in the conduct of the Veterans' Administration, but also gives notice that the new administrator is a man who can operate with the same quiet effectiveness in peace that he showed in war. By a seemingly insignificant directive, he has found a short cut to the solution of many veterans' problems.

Of course, General Bradley, being an active member of the regular Army, will not become Mr. Bradley. But his conversion to a civilian way of thinking seems complete.

New Drugs For Epilepsy

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FOR many years there was not much that could be done for epilepsy, but in recent years new drugs have been found to relieve patients with the disorder. Epilepsy is a condition characterized by attacks in which there may be spasms of the muscles with or without loss of consciousness.

According to Doctor William G. Lennox of the Harvard Medical School, there are seven types of seizures which may occur in epilepsy. The first is known as Jacksonian. In this condition there are convulsive movements which begin in an arm or leg and spread upward. The patient does not lose consciousness.

The second type is known as a focal fit. In this condition the convulsion or spasm may be limited to one side of the body, with turning of the eyes and head to one side.

The third type is known as grand mal epilepsy, in which there are loss of consciousness and convulsions affecting the whole body.

Psychomotor seizures make up the fourth group. In these cases, the patients have amnesia or the state in which they do not know what they are doing. After the attack is over, the patient has no memory of what occurred, and may even be unaware that anything took place.

In the fifth type, petit mal epilepsy, there is a temporary loss of consciousness with some jerking of the face muscles.

Myoclonic jerks are symptoms of the sixth type. These are single, shock-like jerks of the arm or trunk muscles without any loss of consciousness.

In the seventh type or "lack of motion" epilepsy, there seems to be some sudden collapse of many of the muscles, with nodding of the head.

The last three types occur most frequently in children.

Symptoms Occur

When any symptoms of epilepsy occur, a careful study must be made by a doctor to determine, if possible, what is producing the trouble, since upon this decision the type of treatment to be given must be determined.

In treating epilepsy, there are four methods of attack. One is the use of good hygiene and the proper well-balanced diet; second, surgical treatment; third, the use of drugs, and fourth, psychological treatment.

Just what type of drugs is to be employed will depend on the type of epilepsy which has occurred. Among those found most useful are bromides, phenobarbital and phenytoin sodium.

Lady Nearly Choked

While Lying In Bed—
Due To Stomach Gas

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELP! Lease Drug Stores.

No Compensation for Vets

Idle Because of Strikes

COLUMBUS, Jan. 29 — Administrator Charles H. Jones of the state bureau of unemployment compensation ruled today that Ohio war veterans idle in labor disputes involving wage issues are not entitled to jobless benefits under either the GI Bill of Rights or Ohio unemployment insurance laws.

Jones said Ohio law "provides that in any labor dispute, except a lockout, involving a question of wages, the claimant is not entitled to benefits."

One section of the GI Bill of Rights disqualifies a veteran from receiving readjustment allowances should it be found his unemployment is due to a strike in which he might benefit by the settlement.

Music Study Members At Bailey Home

Miss Emma Kenreich presented a paper on "Music as a Therapy in Hospitals" at a meeting of the Salem Music Study club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nelson Bailey on E. Fourth st., with 17 members in attendance.

Mrs. Donald Dusenberry of Winona was received as a new member.

The program included these numbers:

Two piano solos, "Spring" (Ball-Bauers) and "Polly" (Zanencnik), Mrs. Melvin A. York; trio, Bach's Sonata, Mrs. M. P. Livingston, viola, Miss Marie Callahan, flute, and Mrs. John Hundertmark, piano; flute solo, "Andante" (Gluck), Miss Callahan; viola solo, "Village Song" (Lalo), Mrs. Livingston; piano solos, "Minuet" (Boccherini) and "Songs My Mother Taught Me" (Dvorak), Nancy Bailey; piano solo, "Prelude" (Lund-Skabo), Ben Bailey.

The hostess served refreshments. Mrs. Marion McArthur of Ann Arbor, Mich., was a guest.

The next meeting, set for Feb. 11, will be at the home of Mrs. Livingston on the Salem-Lisbon rd.

Junior Musicians Study Life of MacDowell

A study of the life of Edward A. MacDowell, one of America's foremost composers, added interest to a meeting of the Junior Music Study club last night at the home of Sally Hurlbut on Highland ave.

Mary Mae Votaw, Miss Hurlbut and Mrs. E. E. Dyball, counselor, gave reports on MacDowell's life, and on Peterborough colony which he founded in New Hampshire, a haven for composers, artists and poets.

The program was as follows:

Piano solo, "Scotch Poem" (MacDowell), Mary Lou Vincent; piano solo, "Witches Dance" (MacDowell), Joan Smith; piano solos, "To a Wild Rose" and "To a Water Lily" (MacDowell) and "Claire De Lune" (Debussy), Miss Hurlbut; piano solo, "Scotch Poem" (MacDowell), Mary Ibele.

Mrs. Dyball told how "To a Wild Rose" came to be written, then the group sang it.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. C. Hurlbut.

The members will meet again in two weeks with Doris Eytan hostess at her home on Vine ave.

Coverdish Dinner Held By Harris Class Members

Red, white and blue tapers in crystal holders and flags made the table attractive when the Harris class of the Christian church, taught by Mrs. L. B. Harris, had a coverdish dinner last night at the church. Places were arranged for 46 guests.

This class sponsors Cub Scout Pack 5, which is made up of dens 1 and 2. The honor guests were Cubmaster and Mrs. Arden Crumbaker and Den Mothers Mrs. Ivan Garlock and Mrs. Jack Perence.

Following the dinner the group went upstairs, where the handiwork of the club was displayed. Mrs. Clara Bishop was chairman of the program of entertainment presented by the club. Cubmaster Crumbaker gave a talk, explaining cub activities.

Garden Club Members Enjoy Book Review

Mrs. L. H. Beihler gave an interesting review of the book, "American Conservation" (Butler), at a meeting of the Salem Garden club Monday afternoon in the public library room.

The program this year is on "Trees" and Mrs. G. T. Harding offered a solo, "Trees," with Mrs. M. F. DeGraves as the accompanist.

The annual report was read and two new members were added.

A flower show is scheduled for August.

Charlotte, N. C., Girl Weds Virgil Stamp

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stamp, R. D. 2, Salem, announce the marriage of their son, Virgil Stamp, and Miss Gladys Newton of Charlotte, N. C., at Folkston, Ga., Jan. 19.

The couple arrived at the Stamp home Saturday morning. Virgil Stamp, who was recently discharged from the navy, was last stationed at Green Coast Springs, Fla. He was a M.O.M.M. first class and had been in the service three years and one month.

Marriage Licenses

George Zehnd, farmer, and Dorothy Burke, Salem.

William Herbert Gray, laborer, and Janet Maree Harrold, Leetonia.

Reception Delayed

A reception planned for Miss Lucille Bennett of Lisbon, deputy grand matron of District 13, Order of the Eastern Star, Wednesday night at Lisbon, has been postponed on account of illness.

Miss Bennett has been ill for nearly two weeks.

Mrs. Edith Hall and son, Leonard, and daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Huff, and her son, Donnie, of Freeport, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Hall's sister, Mrs. L. L. Park, and family, of E. Third st.

Miss Marjorie Lizer of Canton spent the weekend with Miss Helen Birchak of Prospect st.

SMALL GIRLS' FROCKS MUST LAST AND BE WASHABLE

No matter how careful a little girl may be, all mothers know she is bound to be a bit hard on her clothes. That is perfectly normal, but she does need clothes that are durable and washable as well as good looking. The three costumes shown are fine for this season. The jumper, left, is made of red cordurella, and its style permits a quick change of blouses for dress-up or play. The dress for the two-year-old, center, is a pinwale material, both pretty and practical. It has little puff sleeves and a lace Peter Pan collar. It buttons down the front. At the right of our picture is a cordurella two-piece with dainty lace-trimmed collar and white buttons on the jacket—a feminine touch on an otherwise tailored suit. Suspender dress the skirt in position so that the pleats hang correctly. (International)

Mildred Hendricks Wed To Corp. Martell

Miss Mildred Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hendricks of Greenford, and Corp. Fred Martell, son of Mrs. Bertha Martell of R. D. 5, Salem, were married at 11:45 a. m. Saturday at Covington, Ky., by Rev. Paul Eninger, who read the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore an attractive aqua blue suit with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. David Huffman of Greenford were the attendants. Mrs. Huffman wore a tweed suit with a corsage of white gardenias.

Corp. and Mrs. Martell are graduates of Greenford High school. She is employed in the office of the Denning Co.

Corp. Martell, who served 25 months in India, has re-enlisted for three years. At the conclusion of his 90-day furlough he will report to Camp Atterbury, Ind., for reassignment.

The couple will make their home temporarily with the bride's sister, Mrs. Walter DeJane, 542 E. School st.

Mrs. Mattevi Hostess To Garden Study Club

Mrs. Charles Mattevi entertained members of the Garden Study club last evening at her home, S. Union ave. Mrs. Lewis Weirick and Mrs. George Hillard were associate hostesses.

Roll call was answered with "My New Year's Resolution for My Garden." A reading, "Post-war Houses and Gardens," was given by Mrs. Clyde Dickson and a garden brief, "Forcing Bulbs in Shrubs," was presented by Mrs. J. Herbert Yengling. Mrs. Rex Hundertmark was a guest.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 25.

Meeting Is Held By Lydia Bible Class

The Lydia Bible class of Holy Trinity Lutheran church met last evening at the church, with Mrs. Charles Davidson and Mrs. Frances Dales associate hostesses.

Mrs. William Broughton was the leader, with the topic "Prayer." Mrs. James Hinkle read the scripture and Mrs. W. J. Beck presented a vocal solo. Mrs. Celia Greenstein and Mrs. G. D. Keister sang a duet and Mrs. Frank Wilms read several poems.

Lunch was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held Feb. 25.

Search For More Bodies In Burned Hangar; 10 Dead

Workers continued searching for bodies today in the twisted wreckage of Tinker field's principal hangar, gutted by a fire which took the lives of at least 10 persons and injured 43 others at the huge Army Air force supply depot.

Seven bodies—all civilian workers of Oklahoma City—had been identified last night of the 10 found in the wake of the gasoline fed flames which witnesses said swept the 15-acre steel structure like a tornado. Col. Ralph O. Brownfield,

Hine Garage Can Keep Your Car In Operation

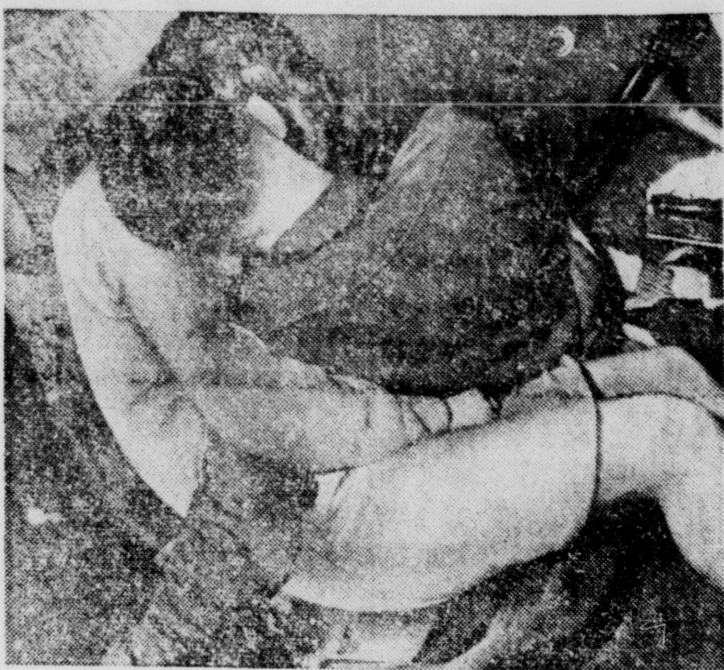

Most motorists believed a few months ago, that by now, they would be driving new cars. It must be clear to them now, with the many problems the nation is facing that it's impossible to guess when they may be able to trade the old car for a new one.

The only sure way to have transportation is to keep the present car in as good mechanical condition as possible, and it has astonished many that could be done by having the car checked at regular intervals and by following recommendations of the mechanics.

The H. I. Hine Motor Co., W. State st., is well stocked with replacement parts.

The Hine garage is the authorized Ford dealer in this district.

THEY WANTED TO DIE TOGETHER

TWO TEEN-AGE SWEETHEARTS—Aubrey Matthews, 17, and Shirley Mason, 15, Long Beach, Cal., high school students—were found as the camera shows them, locked in death in each other's arms. A bottle of crystalline chemical was found in the boy's pocket, and police reported "a suicide pact" after finding a letter signed "Shirley" which ended, "I guess it's for the best." It was addressed to young Matthews. (International)

Vets. State Open Fight For Fletcher Hospital

COLUMBUS, Jan. 29.—The state government and Ohio war veterans' organizations, each determined to acquire Fletcher General hospital near Cambridge, O., will carry their contest to Washington this week.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche will go there Wednesday to attempt to negotiate purchase of the $10,000,000 institution, which he said the state needed seriously to house mental patients.

Harry Eaton, Ohio American Legion commander, announced Saturday his organization, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and disabled American veterans intended "to fight to the finish" to have Fletcher taken over by the veterans' administration.

NEW TREATMENT CHASES PIN-WORMS

Millions have suffered in silence with the miseries of Pin-Worms—but need suffer no longer! Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms and relieve that tormenting rectal itch. So if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, ask your druggist for a package of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Decline In Car Titles Noted In Clerk's Office

LISBON, Jan. 29.—The recent spurt in new automobile titles recorded in the office of Clerk of Courts John W. Coleman, with 33 filed this month as compared to one or two in previous months, has definitely slowed down the past few days due to the strike situation, Coleman stated.

He announced that 10 new house trailers have been recorded, as homeless persons have purchased the mobile units to beat the housing shortage. The value of the house-trailers ranged from $1,800 to $2,800, according to certificates of title.

DISTRICT CAGE TOURNEY PLANS BEING COMPLETED; FEB. 25-26 OPENING SET

Although actual tournament talk is still pure fabrication, definite plans and arrangements are being made for this district's annual scholastic tournaments once again, according to Dave Williams of Youngstown South, who has been appointed manager for the Class A and B sectional, district and regional affairs this year.

Williams, one of the most popular and efficient managers in the state, has announced that the A sectional will be staged at South's fieldhouse on Feb. 25-26 and March 2-4-7-8-9. The A regional, also at South this year, will go March 14-15 and 16 along with B counterpart.

The B sectionals will be staged at the fieldhouse this year, instead of at cramped McDonald, on Feb. 27-28 and March 1, and the B regionals will follow with the A regionals, as was the set-up at Kent last year.

The change in the site of the B games, some fans may remember, came as a direct result of a protest by Columbiana, district champion last season, because the accommodations for fans at McDonald were far below the figures which could have been drawn.

Columbiana's suggested change, made directly to Commissioner H. W. Emswiler of the Ohio High School Athletic association, was acted upon almost immediately.

The Clippers, who went to the state finals in Class B last year, also were instrumental with Emswiler in having another important tourney change made. They complained regarding the practice of having one team play two games in one day at the finals, claiming it was too strenuous, as borne out by the large number of "cramps" and player collapses at both finals last season.

This year, both at Toledo and Springfield, the finals will be staged on a two-day basis, with no team playing twice on the same day.

Changes noted in the A and B classes this year put Canton Central, formerly Canton St. John's, into the A group instead of B as last year. Youngstown North, formerly Class A's Scienceville, is now a B entry.

Leading contenders in the B group this year are Columbiana, Lowellville, North and Springfield field township. All boast impressive records so far.

Canton McKinley, Canton Lehman, Warren and Niles are among the topnotchers in the A group.

Williams said yesterday that the pairings for the tourneys will be held at South High school on Feb. 18.

Generally four teams are "seeded" in the A brackets and two or three in the B groupings.

"A" teams this year include: Youngstown's Rayen, South, East, Chaney, Ursuline, and Woodrow Wilson.

Along with the Central, Canton will have McKinley, Lehman, Timken, Lincoln, North Canton and Canton Township.

Completing the roster are Niles, Warren, Girard, Hubbard, Brookfield, Minerva, Louisville, Alliance, Salem, East Palestine, Struthers, Campbell Memorial, Boardman and Sebring again.

Lisbon is in Class "B" this year.

3,000 Hunt Pheasants

TORRINGTON, Wyo.—The pheasant season in Goshen county opened with a bang recently—and that's both literally and figuratively. As 3,000 hunters turned out for the big event, one nimrod shot the windshield out of another sportsman's car, a woman was peppered with birdshot, another female was stepped on by an agitated cow, and several motorists collided in the excitement.

Northridge Leads Class B Contenders, But No Expert Would Chance Picking Other

By HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio A.P. Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, Jan. 29—Ohio's high school basketball teams are heading into the final month of regular scheduled play and until someone proves otherwise the top billing must be given to Northridge's defending champions in Class "B" but in Class "A" it would take a brave man to pick an outstanding favorite.

Proof of the Class "A" situation was evidenced no later than last week when Middletown had a barrel of trouble before nosing out a supposedly crippled and ailing Hamilton Public team, 36 to 32. Prior to that the Middies had been rolling over virtually every foe with a minimum of trouble.

The Middies, Hubbard, Chillicothe, Dayton Fairmont and Hamilton Catholic are the major unbeaten Class "A" outfits but no one can discount Canton Lehman, Canton McKinley, Youngstown Rayen, East Liverpool, Warren, Toledo Macomber and a flock of others who have lost only one or two games.

Marietta is undefeated in Ohio competition, although it has lost to Parkersburg, W. Va., and had a close call with Lancaster.

Even Bellevue's defending champions are beginning to draw some attention by virtue of a mid-spurt after a dismal start.

The Redmen whipped Shelby last week, 35 to 32.

Cleveland Benedictine, paced by the high scoring Mike Medich also is undefeated but the Clevelanders do not participate in the state tournament.

Benedictine ran up one of the season's highest scores last week in crushing Glenview, 83 to 48, with Medich contributing 35 points.

Middies Have Trouble
Although Middletown had its hands full whipping Hamilton last, Marietta had even a closer call in nosing out Lancaster, 27 to 26. The Tigers trailed most of the way and it took a field goal by Jimmy Runkle in the last three seconds to bring the triumph to Marietta.

Meanwhile, Northridge gave advocates of a three-class system in Ohio high school basketball something to think about when the Polar Bears stepped out of their own division to whip Dayton Chamblaine, 32 to 24.

Chamblaine, a Class "A" school is the leader in Dayton's "Big Seven."

The victory ran Northridge's 1945-46 victory to string to 14, one triumph of which represents the only setback handed to Columbiana Clippers, runners-up to Northridge in last year's state tournament.

Columbiana breezed past East Palestine last week, 57 to 22.

Last week's games saw East Canton, Miller City, Lucas, Dayton Dunbar and Lockland Wayne knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten.

That class, however, still includes Waynesburg, Cleveland Benedictine, Huron, Amherst, Hubbard, Canton Township, Marietta, Chillicothe, Dayton Fairmont, Hamilton Catholic, Northridge, South Charleston, Phillipsburg, New Knoxville and Middletown.

The week also produced: Canton Lehman ran up an 85 to 43 count on Erie, (Pa.) East, the highest score ever recorded by a Canton high school team.

Lloyd King of Caldwell grabbed the week's high individual scoring honors with 41 points as his team defeated Gloucester, 84 to 39.

Officials called 66 personal fouls as Ontario defeated Shiloh, 44 to 28.

Pete Spera was held to five points but Canton McKinley had enough other scoring power to whip Alliance, 43 to 32, and stay in the once-defeated class.

10,000 Checks Mailed
On Income Tax Refunds

Collector of Internal Revenue Thomas M. Carey has announced distribution of 10,000 checks for the payment of refunds to taxpayers for the year 1945.

Carey estimates there will be approximately 700,000 refunds paid during the current year. The collector pointed out taxpayers who take advantage of early filing will naturally receive their refunds at a much earlier date than those who postpone their filing and he urges taxpayers who now know their earnings for 1945 to file their reports as soon as possible.

Refunds are being scheduled daily and with the tremendous volume of business expected in March, a taxpayer who has a refund coming to him will greatly expedite receiving payment by filing his report at once.

Lipperts, Cavs, Corner Win; Sinclairs Thump West Siders

Panthers Extend Lipperts In Hotly-Contested Fray; Theiss Star In Oiler Win

With big Bill Theiss setting the pace with 18 points, the Sinclair Oilers staged their top scoring spree of the season last night at the Memorial building, dumping the West Side by a 60-37 count.

The game was the only "A" contest on last evening's slate. Two Class B entries from Columbiana were unable to make an appearance to play in the Class B loop so the Class A fray was moved up one night to fill in the schedule.

Theiss found the hoops much to his liking and sent the Sinclair quintet off to a 12-6 edge in the first quarter. At halftime, the Oilers still held a six point margin as the teams played on even terms.

Sinclair Boost Margin
Ray "Goose" McGaffick suddenly regained his mid-court accuracy and boosted the Sinclair lead with a pair of neat long shots and Lee Shaeffer and "Torch" Nedelka also caught fire to run the Sinclair advantage to 40-28 as the third period ended.

The entire team broke into the scoring column in the final as the Sinclair drive reached its peak. A fast-breaking attack coupled with the West Siders' inability to cope with it gave the winners 20 points in the final period. Nedelka tossed in eight points in the last minute and one half of play.

Theiss and McGaffick tallied 18 and 14 points respectively to pace the Sinclairs while John "Kooty" Kozar was high man for the West Side with 13 points.

It was the first game of second round competition for the winners and the second loss in two tries for the West Side in the new round.

WHAT'S NECESSARY
TO HOLD BASEBALL
JOB IS BIG WORRY

Some Stars of Past Four Years Are Worried As To Their Futures

By AL VERMEER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — During the past four years baseball talent was so scarce that any man who looked good in a cap and long stockings was worthy of a trial. If you had a speaking acquaintance with a finger mitt you were a prospect.

But the baseball trade, like all others, is feeling the pangs of reconversion.

Many major leaguers who were regulars in 1945 will find themselves separated from their most cherished companions — fat salary checks and pleasant hours.

Surely no over-aged man is safe from a release slip when the White Sox can afford to cast adrift Tony Cuccinello, who only four months ago was in the headlines as batting leader of the American league. Tony did a tidy job around third base as long as his complaining legs would let him, topped the batting field until the final day of the season.

"Cooch" Happy
On that afternoon George Stirmweiss of the Yankees turned on the heat, won the crown by a single point, 309 to 308. It was a bitter disappointment for the 37-year-old Cuccinello, more so because Snuffy Stirmweiss' title-winning hit was of a doubtful nature. It was first called an error, then reversed.

But Cuccinello went home satisfied that he had had his greatest season—and then was given his release. And they picked Christmas time to give it to him.

Bob Johnson, Red Sox outfielder, figured he enjoyed better than a fair season when he slammed out 148 hits, one-third of them for extra bases, 12 home runs and belted in 74 runs. True, he hit .280, slightly below par for the big Indian, but he was seventh in American league slugging and good enough to play in 143 games.

The Red Sox vision an all-youth outfield, however, and Johnson, 37, suddenly turned around to find the tin can tied to his person.

No less surprising is the release of Paul Derringer, whose long right arm helped carry the Cubs to the World Series. Derringer won 16 games last summer, a performance excelled by only five National league pitchers—Red Barrett and Ken Burkhardt of the Cardinals, Hank Wyse and Claude Passeau of the Cubs and Hal Gregg of the Dodgers.

Age Telling
But Paul Derringer is 33, and that apparently is more important than his 1945 record.

Conditions have certainly changed in a year. Last winter clubs were crying for players. Now they see fit to fire the No. 2 hitter, the seventh best slugger in the American league and the sixth highest winner in the National.

Tony Cuccinello, Bob Johnson and Oom Paul Derringer wonder what a man has to do to keep his job.

Here's Prediction Of When to Expect Consumer Goods

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Here's the Civilian Production Administration's latest review and forecast on output of consumer goods:

Automobiles—Only 83,702 cars were built in 1945. At least five times as many were expected. Strikes are "continuing to hamper production."

Refrigerators—About 150,000, half the prewar rate, were shipped in December. Output may double by June.

Washing machines, ironers—65,000 went to dealers last month. This is 60 per cent less than the 1941 monthly shipments.

Vacuum cleaners—December shipments totaled 90,000, 58 per cent of the prewar rate, which may be reached in May.

Electric irons—Monthly output only eight per cent less than before the war. Production expected to hit 1941 rate of 389,000 a month soon after settlement of electrical industry strike.

Sewing machines—Only about 5,000 shipped in December, but production may hit prewar 48,000 monthly by June.

Alarm clocks—930,000 started, to retail stores last month. Only a 10 per cent climb now to prewar rate, which is expected by March.

Radioes—Only 100,000, or 10 per cent of 1941 rate, shipped in December. Industry having trouble getting cabinets because it has to compete with furniture makers.

Corp. Brown Fund Grows

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 29.—Workers in the campaign to gather $15,000 for Corp. R. Brown, who lost both legs and an arm in the war, reported today that $21,500 had been collected so far.

Germans Criticize Allied Occupation

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—The Germans are becoming more outspoken in their criticism of Allied occupation policies. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. commander in Germany, declared today, but their behavior thus far has been better than expected, perhaps because of an exceptionally mild winter.

The problem of displaced persons has become so acute that McNarney, in his December report, urged immediate inter-governmental action to take off American hands more than 250,000 persons who are stateless or otherwise unable to return to their homes.

Most German criticism, the American military governor said, could be traced to a "general feeling of self-pity on the part of the Germans."

The report conceded that the Americans were having difficulty in finding true anti-Nazis to replace ousted Nazis, saying "less than one per cent of the Germans investigated in the U. S. zone showed definite evidence of anti-Nazi activity."

Sebring Sports Figure, Eddie Howell, Dead at 56

SEBRING, Jan. 29.—Funeral service for Edward E. Howell, 56, sports goods dealer and district scholastic official, was held at 2 p. m. today at the Moosman-Vest funeral home in charge of Rev. Paul D. Magnuson. Burial was in Grandview cemetery.

Howell, who has participated in and officiated football, baseball, track and basketball events throughout this section for years, died at Alliance City hospital Saturday evening.

Surviving are his wife, Mabel; a daughter, a son and two brothers.

Home Official Dies

MANSHFIELD, Jan. 29.—Harry Van Dorn Downs, superintendent of Richland County Children's home for 20 years, died yesterday. He was 74.

position of the Treasury Jan. 25:

Balance $24,981,730,942.09.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Many stocks touched new 15-year peaks

today although profit cashing on

Monday's sharpest market bulge since 1940 put numerous leaders in the minus column.

The list was irregularly higher at the start and, for a while, the ticker tape fell as much as two minutes behind as 10,000 to 25,000-

share blocks came out for low-quoted utilities, most of which were unchanged.

WHY Eyes Should Be Examined

- If you are nervous and irritable.
- If you are troubled with sleeplessness.
- If your eyes smart and burn after reading.
- If you have frequent headaches.
- If you cannot read fine print or thread a needle.
- If you are unexplainably fatigued by mid-afternoon.
- If moving pictures, or riding in a car tire your eyes unduly.
- If you squint and frown when looking at distant objects.
- If wrinkles are developing in the skin around your eyes.
- If your eyes feel uncomfortable in any way.
- If your vision is not as acute as it should be.
- If a year has passed since your eyes were last examined.
